

Let's talk AAC!

Looking for more ideas on how to use your child's device?

Looking for ways to embed aided language modeling into daily activities?

You are invited to participate in the following research study:

Efficacy of Activity-Based Training Program for Parents of Children with AAC Needs

Study for parents of children with AAC needs:

We are looking for parents of children who have AAC needs and are looking for additional ideas on how to model on their child's AAC device in everyday routines.

Participants will be asked to participate in

- ◆ Online training on AAC language facilitation strategies
- ◆ Three weeks of practice modeling on your child's AAC system
- ◆ Complete a questionnaire at the beginning and the end of the study

Participants will receive

- ◆ Free training on AAC language facilitation strategies

Location

- ◆ Online training sessions

Are you eligible?

- ◆ Is your child under 21?
- ◆ Does your child use an AAC device to communicate?
- ◆ Is your child using 1-2 word phrases?
- ◆ Do you have access to the internet?
- ◆ Can you commit to watching a training program on AAC language facilitation strategies?
- ◆ Can you commit to using these strategies with your child for three weeks?

If you are unsure if you meet the requirements, email or call the researcher:

Jerriann Mitchell

JM3356@mynsu.nova.edu

(203) 736-7342